If you have been a victim of Identity Theft

If a you have been a victim of identity theft, follow guidelines below:

- Report the crime to the police immediately the Bank will require a copy of the report to verify the crime.
- Close any bank accounts that may be affected.
- Notify the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) at 1-877-ID THEFT. The FTC is the federal clearinghouse for complaints of identity theft. The Commission assists victims by providing information to resolve the problems that typically arise as the result of identity theft. The FTC may also refer victim complaints to other appropriate government agencies and private organizations for further action.
- Immediately contact credit card issuers. Get replacement cards with new account numbers, and ask that the old account be processed as "account closed at consumer's request" for credit record purposes.
- For driver's license and other government-issued identification, contact the agency that issued the ID to cancel the document and get a replacement
- Keep a log of all conversations with authorities and financial entities.

The Bank can also help customers if they have been victims of identity theft. First, inform them of the FACT Act which protects them if they are victims of identity theft.
